Access & Use: Open to qualified researchers.

Preferred Citation: Archives of the World Student Christian Federation: General Records, Record Group No. 46/1, Special Collections, Yale Divinity School Library.

Summary: The Yale Divinity Library holds the official archives of the WSCF through 1925; later official archives are held in Geneva. Many documents in the record group date from after 1925. This finding aid describes the Archives of the WSCF: General Records. Separate finding aids describe the WSCF records relating to North America, South America, Europe, Great Britain and Ireland, Oriental Countries, and Other Countries. The World's Student Christian Federation was created in 1895 to fulfill its founders' vision of an international student Christian movement which could encourage and coordinate the work of existing national student Christian movements, as well as stimulate the formation of unified student movements in countries where they did not exist.

Historical Note

The World's Student Christian Federation was created in 1895 to fulfill its founders' vision of an international student Christian movement which could encourage and coordinate the work of existing national student Christian movements, as well as stimulate the formation of unified student movements in countries where they did not exist. Advances in transportation and communication at the end of the nineteenth century made realization of this vision feasible for the first time. The work of the Federation was carried out through conferences and committee meetings, publications, exchanges of literature, and visits to national movements by its secretaries and agents. The name of the organization was changed from World's Student Christian Federation to World Student Christian Federation in 1960.

The formation of the W.S.C.F. was a radical step toward ecumenical cooperation at a time when no other worldwide, non-Roman Catholic Christian agency based on independent national organizations existed. From its purely Protestant origins, it expanded its membership in 1911 to include Orthodox Christians. The Federation served as a training ground for many individuals who later became prominent in the worldwide life of the Church, including Bishop Azariah of India, Bishop Honda of Japan, T.Z. Koo of China, Nathan Söderblom of Sweden, J.H. Oldham and William Temple of Great Britain, John R. Mott and W.A. Visser 't Hooft.

For the first twenty of the thirty years most thoroughly documented by Record Group No. 46, the W.S.C.F. focused its energies on the formation and stabilization of national student movements, calling students to the Christian faith and the evangelization of the world. The First World War and its aftermath changed the emphases of the Federation as social problems, international relations, and the issues of pacifism and war came to the foreground. In 1920, the W.S.C.F. founded European Student Relief, a vast program of social service to thousands of students which lasted for five years. The work of European Student Relief later was carried on by an independent body called International Student Service.

At the High Leigh conference of the W.S.C.F. in 1924, men and women from thirty-five different nations were represented. The growing pains of the Federation were evident as tensions surfaced regarding administrative and theological issues. The leadership of the Federation sought to make these tensions a strength of the organization, rather than a liability. As J.H. Oldham expressed it in the WSCF journal Student World (Oct. 1925): "The Federation has realized that fullness of life is found in the tension between opposites, and that when two opposite but complementary principles claim our allegiance, what is needed is not to surrender one of them or to adopt some feeble and half-hearted compromise, but to hold fast to both and follow each as far as it will carry us. If the Federation is able to keep a firm grasp on this great truth, it will be able to render a service of which the world is in urgent need."

The W.S.C.F. has played the role of international interpreter and mediator for national student Christian movements through decades of changing issues and goals. Its structures and activities have provided a unique opportunity for focused study of student religious life throughout the world.

Introduction

Record Group No. 46 as a whole includes more than 140 linear feet of letters, reports, pamphlets and other papers documenting the work of the World's Student Christian Federation. The General Records described by this finding aid are divided into nine series:

- I. A000: General
- II. A100: Objects and Field, Extension and Supervision
- III. A300: Organization, Incorporation
- IV. A400: Salaried Officers
- V. A500: Organized Lines of Work and Study
- VI. A600: Associations in Individual Institutions or Among Special Classes of Students
- VII. A700: Student Life in General Outside the Federation
- VIII. A800: Correspondence
- IX. A900: History
- X. U: Photographs and Scrapbooks

Other groups in the WSCF archives, described in separate finding aids, are:

- B: North America
- C: South America
- D: Europe
- E: Great Britain and Ireland
- F: Oriental Countries
- G-M: Other Countries

These records, collected under the supervision of John R. Mott, represent the official archives of the World's Student Christian Federation from 1895 to 1925. The official W.S.C.F. archives from the period following 1925 are located at the organization's headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. The W.S.C.F. archives represented by Record Group No. 46 contain materials dating from 1875 to 1945. The materials dating from before 1895 primarily document organizations which later became members of the W.S.C.F. The W.S.C.F. collection at Yale continued to receive important Federation documents and serial publications following the organization's change of headquarters in 1925.

Record Group No. 46 also encompasses the books and periodicals which constituted the Library of the W.S.C.F. In 1919, the Library of the W.S.C.F. (also called the John R. Mott Library) included some five thousand volumes, with documents in more than twenty languages. A dictionary card catalog and shelf list in the Day Missions Library provide bibliographic access to these printed materials. Some are available for circulation by permission of the Archivist.

A unique classification system modeled after the Dewey Decimal System was developed specifically for the archives and the library of the W.S.C.F. in the early part of the 20th century by Mrs. Grace J. Livingston. Mrs. Livingston's classification system was updated and expanded by Miss Ruth Rouse in the 1940s. The organization of files resulting from this classification system has been preserved in Record Group No. 46; the compilers of this finding aid take no responsibility for the inconsistencies, ambiguities, and undue complexities of the classification system!

Contained in Box 2, Folder 31 of this collection are documents that describe the arrangement of the archives, including: the "Key to Alphabetical Arrangements" and "Classification System for Federation Archives." These lists define the meaning of each alphabetical and numerical entry in the classification. Another important document in this folder, which researchers are advised to peruse is "Hints to Research Workers in the John R. Mott Library", which was compiled by Ruth Rouse in 1945. Rouse worked extensively in the collection while preparing her history of the W.S.C.F. published in 1948.

The W.S.C.F. was a federation of student movements which existed in more than forty countries. The alphabetical portion of each classification designation refers to the geographical location of a student movement, except in the case of section "A", which refers to the W.S.C.F. as an international organization. The numerical portion of the classification refers to various aspects of the activities and thought of the student movements. The "600" category, for example, documents student Christian organizations in individual educational institutions and work with special classes of students. The "600" category is divided into fourteen subcategories, each referring to a different type of institution (colleges and universities, theological schools, medical schools, etc.) or a different class of student (women students, art students, etc.). Therefore, any documents in Record Group No. 46 related to women students in France would be classified under D(f)622, the "D(f)" indicating the geographical location and the "622" specifying work among women students. Records documenting student Christian activities at Yale would be classified under B (for the United States) 610 through 619. The (often unnecessary) complexity of the classification system is illustrated by the fact that documents related to student Christian activities at Yale are found under twelve numbers within the 610 to 619 range: 611.25, 614.1, 615.004, 615.1, 615.311, 615.32, 615.444, 615.47, 615.49, 615.491, 615.495, and 615.5.

Interesting sections and items are scattered throughout this large collection. The D(c) section, for example, contains much useful material regarding Germany before, during and after World War I. The D(aa)912E and D(aa)990 sections contain reports of hardships amidst famine and revolution in Russia during the 1920s. The Federation News Sheets in section A950 provide international reporting of personal experiences during World War II. The "700" category documents student life in general and student organizations other than those which were members of the W.S.C.F. The blocks and photographs in the collection include John R. Mott and the other founding fathers of the W.S.C.F., Ruth Rouse, and numerous groups of conference attendees. Also of interest are the World War I disarmament posters in Section B750.

Letters and writings of notable individuals are also scattered throughout the collection. Section A961.14, for example, includes a letter from Theodore Roosevelt to the W.S.C.F. conference in Tokyo in 1907. Sections D(bc)512, 518 and 544.3 contain works by the Swedish theologian Gustaf Aulén. Personal notes, writings and correspondence of John R. Mott are present throughout the record group. There are letters and writings by numerous individuals who were prominent in student work and the church overseas, including G. Sherwood Eddy, Karl Fries, Michi Kawai, T.Z. Koo, Baron Paul Nicolay, William Paton, Tissington Tatlow, W.A. Visser 't Hooft, Robert P. Wilder and H.L. Zia.

The constituent members of the W.S.C.F. varied widely in their size and vigor, a fact which is reflected in the volume of material available for each in this record group. The student movements of Sweden, Great Britain, the U.S., France, Germany, and China were most prolific in issuing publications.

Especially well-documented in this record group are W.S.C.F. members in the United States--the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, and American Interseminary Alliance. There are sixteen linear feet of correspondence, pamphlets and reports on subjects ranging from the origins of the movements to conferences, foreign students in the U.S., sex education and Bible study. Of particular interest is a group of materials in section B549.01 which documents the Mount Holyoke Missionary Association, an early forerunner of the Student Volunteer Movement. The liabilities of the W.S.C.F. classification system are evident in the "B" (United States) section; records related to four distinct organizations are mingled together under numerous overlapping and confusing subject headings.

Numerous other record groups at the Divinity Library complement the documentation provided by Record Group No. 46. First and foremost, the papers of John R. Mott (RG 45) are integrally related to the archives of the W.S.C.F. Mott was a founder of the organization and its General Secretary and Chairman for many years. The Archives of the World Student Christian Federation North America Regional Office, Record Group No. 46A, provide documentation of the continuing efforts of the W.S.C.F., particularly in the 1970s and 1980s. The collection contains the North American secretaries' files and official records from the United States Committee and the Student Christian Movement of Canada. Operations of the Inter-Regional Office in Geneva and other regional student movements are also documented. Also related are the Archives of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions (RG 42), the Archives of the Y.M.C.A.-Student Division (RG 58), and the papers of Robert P. Wilder (RG 38), Clarence P. Shedd (RG 35) and Luther D. Wishard (RG 30).
